About Us

Welcome to the d. University website. We hope you will take a few moments to browse our newly redesigned site and explore the variety of educational opportunities available to you as an employee of the District Department of Transportation (DDOT).

Whether you are starting out or starting over, d. University can take you where you want to go. We take pride in providing DDOT employees a learning experience tailored to your unique educational goals. That experience includes a wide range of course offerings, talented faculty and staff, small class sizes, a comprehensive array of employee support services, and a welcoming atmosphere. Whether you are a first-time attendee or a seasoned student, we believe you'll find that d. University is focused on helping you achieve your educational goals.

d. University is an educational entity designed to assist DDOT in achieving its goals by conducting activities that foster individual and organizational learning and knowledge. We are a global entity under which employees receive a range of opportunities including personal and professional development, and on the job training. Although "d. University" is not an accredited institution, courses are primarily designed, developed and delivered by experienced learning professionals in partnership with accredited colleges.

As you contemplate your education and training, we encourage you to allow the staff of "d.University" to assist you in this academic pursuit. Come join us, and see why we say, "d. University is your Transportation to Success!"
